

Fuyao Glass - H

2Q26 in-line; GPM a record high despite sluggish industry demand

Fuyao-H's share price has rebounded 19% from its end-June trough (vs HSI +13%), as investors viewed 1H26 as a trough for China auto demand, while valuations remained attractive. Fuyao reported 1H26 results post market close today, with 2Q26 results a mixed bag. 2Q26 net profit was largely in line with JPM. Excluding the FX impact, 2Q26 PBT increased 1% y/y or 21% q/q, suggesting relatively resilient underlying profitability despite sluggish auto production in China. GPM was a decent surprise at 40.2% (or 38.9% in 2Q26 excluding the 1.28ppt one-off tariff refund benefit), up 0.4ppts y/y and 1.5ppts q/q. The company will host its results call at 10am HKT tomorrow, followed by JPM's post-results NDR at 4pm HKT. We look for further colour from management on the sustainability of the margin improvement and the 2H volume/ASP outlook on the upcoming results call. We maintain a Neutral rating on Fuyao Glass as we see the current valuation as fair.

- US tariff refunds had mixed P&L impact. 1) For ARG, the additional US tariffs imposed last year were fully borne by customers. Following the tariff refund, Fuyao therefore needs to return around Rmb234mn to ARG customers, which was deducted from revenue and consequently dragged overseas revenue growth and ASP growth. Management commented that the tariff refund reduced group level ASP growth by 1.23ppts; excluding this impact, 1H26 ASP would have increased 8.66% y/y, versus 7.43% y/y calculated at the group level based on 1H26 revenue and sales volume. 2) For OEM, in contrast, Fuyao bore the majority of the additional tariffs last year. The subsequent refund therefore accrued to Fuyao, with around Rmb148mn recognized as a reduction in COGS. This had a positive impact on US operating profit and group GPM, contributing around 0.67ppts to 1H26 group level GPM and 1.28ppts to 2Q26 group level GPM.
- 2Q26 underlying GPM remained decent at 38.9% if excluding the one-off tariff refund benefit. Reported GPM reached 40.2% in 2Q26, up from 38.5% in 2Q25 and 37.4% in 1Q26. Management noted that the quarter included a 1.28ppt positive contribution from the refund of US tariffs. Excluding this one-off benefit, underlying GPM would still have reached 38.9%, up 0.4ppts y/y and 1.5ppts q/q, which we view as very decent margin levels considering the slower sales momentum. The sequential improvement was mainly supported by higher utilization, with UTR reaching ~82% in 2Q26 vs below 80% in 1Q26, as well as continued penetration of higher-value-add products.
- ASP growth moderated while volumes remained weak. For 1H26, sales volume declined 3.4% y/y given sluggish auto production in China, while ASP increased 7.4% y/y, with ASP growth moderating notably from +11% y/y in 1Q26 given the low base in 1Q25. Management noted that tariff-related accounting had a 1.23ppt negative impact on reported ASP growth; excluding this impact, underlying ASP growth would have been 8.7% y/y. By geography, domestic revenue increased 4.8% y/y, while overseas revenue grew only 2.6% y/y in 1H26, partly due to the tariff refund to ARG customers, which dragged both overseas revenue growth.

- 1H26 sales rebate remained below FY guidance. Fuyao's sales rebate rate was 1.16% in 1H26, similar vs 1.17% in 1Q26, and remained well below management's FY26 guidance of ~2%.
- Underlying earnings remained resilient despite FX headwinds. Reported 2Q26 net profit declined 19% y/y or increased 32% q/q, with the y/y decline largely reflecting unfavorable FX movements. Excluding FX impact, 2Q26 PBT increased 1% y/y and 21% q/q, which we believe better reflects the underlying operating performance.
- Higher interim dividend and payout ratio. Fuyao declared an interim dividend of Rmb1.00/share, up 11% y/y, with the implied payout ratio increasing to 66%, vs 49% in 1H25.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Fuyao Glass - H (Neutral; Price Target: HK$58.00)

Investment Thesis

We like Fuyao Glass's leadership position in the global automotive glass market. Fuyao Glass benefits from the rising penetration of EV and ADAS in the auto industry, which brings high value add and higher unit volume per vehicle. We expect Fuyao Glass to continue to gain share in the US (new model launches with the release of its Phase 2 capacity) and EU (global peers exiting the market vs Fuyao Glass expanding capacity for EU exports). However, we have concerns about the margin pressure stemming from intensified competition from small players, higher D&A associated with new capacities additions and export VAT rebate cut. Maintain Neutral.

Valuation

We set our Jun-27 H-share PT at HK$58 based on 14x 2027E P/E, which is slightly below the historical average PE multiple at 16x. We applied a lower multiple given the slow demand environment.

Risks to Rating and Price Target

Upside/downside risks include better- or worse-than-expected auto glass sales, better- or worse-than-expected pricing pressure and better- or worse-than-expected operational performance at FYSAM.

Fuyao Glass - H (3606.HK, 3606 HK) Price Chart

Source: Bloomberg Finance L.P. and J.P. Morgan; price data adjusted for stock splits and dividends.
Initiated coverage May 04, 2015. All share prices are as of market close on the previous business day.

The chart(s) show J.P. Morgan’s continuing coverage of the stocks; the current analysts may or may not have covered it over the entire period. J.P. Morgan ratings or designations: OW = Overweight, N= Neutral, UW = Underweight, NR = Not Rated

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock's expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts' coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst's coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan's Research website, <https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com>.

*Please note that the percentages may not add to 100% because of rounding.

**Percentage of subject companies within each of the "buy," "hold" and "sell" categories for which J.P. Morgan has provided investment banking services within the previous 12 months.

For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution rules only, our Overweight rating falls into a buy rating category; our Neutral rating falls into a hold rating category; and our Underweight rating falls into a sell rating category. Please note that stocks with an NR designation are not included in the table above. This information is current as of the end of the most recent calendar quarter.
