WSTS semiconductor industry data was published for the month of April 2026. After an 88% Y/Y increase in industry sales in March 2026 (up 25% Y/Y ex. memory), April industry sales growth accelerated to +106% Y/Y (up 33% Y/Y ex. memory). On an M/M basis, after a 14% M/M increase in sales in March (+12% M/M ex. memory), April industry sales declined 2.2% M/M (-0.7% M/M ex. memory). Overall units (ex-discretes) declined 4% M/M (+24% Y/Y), while pricing climbed 1.8% M/M (and was up 70% Y/Y – a step-up relative to +62% Y/Y in March). Memory pricing improved materially again in April, with DRAM up 55% M/M and flash up 41% M/M, while analog was essentially flat (below historical +LSD% M/M trends) and MCU up ~2% M/M (~better than typical -LSD-MSD%). Unit shipment growth of ~2% M/M was ahead of seasonal trends, driven by better-than-typical sequential performance in analog, MCU, MPU and flash, but offset by moderately below-seasonal growth in DRAM. On a trailing 3-month basis, semis revenue grew +29% Y/Y – a slight uptick from +28% Y/Y in March. With significant momentum coming out of Q1, even if we were to assume Q2/Q3/Q4 growth rates in line with historical seasonal trends (highly conservative, in our view), full-year industry sales would be up ~80% Y/Y, and in the range of $1.4-1.5T (representing 5/10-yr CAGRs of ~20%/~16% for the industry). Overall, growth trends are consistent with post-Q1 commentary from semis companies under our coverage, indicating further uplift in demand momentum, with bookings, backlog, and customer escalations continuing to build in the weeks since the companies' Q1 prints (as we highlighted in our TMC conference takeaways report). Against this backdrop, we see continued support for our 2026 sector/stock outlook thesis that calls for outsized growth in industry revenue, underpinned by continued momentum in AI spending that broadly benefits the semis value chain, with providers of accelerated compute, memory and networking being most favorably levered to incremental growth in spending. We also continue to anticipate improvements in cyclical trends across most end markets, aided by a much healthier customer and channel inventory environment, though we remain cognizant of potential negative impacts of elevated memory pricing and supply shortages on demand within consumer/client-levered end markets (see our global team's latest memory update here).

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: J.P. Morgan does and seeks to do business with companies covered in its research reports. As a result, investors should be aware that the firm may have a conflict of interest that could affect the objectivity of this report. Investors should consider this report as only a single factor in making their investment decision. Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables (if applicable), are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan–covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting <https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures>, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:

J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst’s, or the Research Analyst’s team’s, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock’s expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts’ coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst’s coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan’s Research website, <https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com>.
